REPETITION PERFORMANCE

Of the Mason County Woman's Club Play Will Be Held in the Washington Opera House on Wednesday Night—Five Reel Picture to Be Shown.

"Betsy Trotwood's Tea Party," which was such a great success when shown at the headquarters of the Mason County Woman's Club on last Friday evening will be shown again to the public of Maysville on Wednesday night of this week in the Washington Opera House. In addition a Brady picture will be shown, "The Velvet Paw."

The splendid little comedy is to be repeated by request of a number of persons who saw the production at the first performance. All were greatly delighted with the play and the curtain had hardly been drawn before there were cries for another performance. The first show was very successful and the ladies realized quite a neat sum.

The Brady picture, "The Velvet Paw," features Gail Kane and House Peters as stars. These two actors are among the many stars of the Brady Film corporation.

There will be no matinee performance and one evening show, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Twenty-five cents admission will be charged at the door and the show it well worth the price. Remember that you will not only see one of the best amateur performances ever given in this city, but a splendid five-reel picture.

NONNEZ-BROWNING

Interesting Article Taken From the Cincinnati Enquirer Concerning the Engagement of One of Maysville's Sons to Queen City Lady.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says: The announcement of the engagement of Miss Marie Nonnez and Mr. John Keith Browning, of Maysville and Cincinnati, has proved a matter of continual congratulation ever since, both having many friends here and in the South. Miss Nonnez is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Nonnez, who for many years lived on Ashland avenue and but recently moved to the Navarre, owing to Mrs. Nonnez's illness. The bride elect, who is extremely pretty, with eyes of forget-me-not blue and a fascinating vivacity and charm, that are a happy blending of her French ancestry and her American bringing up, for she has lived in this country all her life, is in addition a great favorite, her father's home being a constant scene of informal hospitality bringing together the clans of her girlhood. She is a gifted linguist and musician, attainments that never override but merely enhance her dainty feminine graces.

Prof. Nonnez has long been one of the moving spirits of the Alliance Francaise in Cincinnati, his position as head of one of the departments of French, under the Board of Education, giving him special qualifications to be of service to his country in bringing to the notice of the land of his adoption the accomplishments and ideals of his own "patrie."

Mr. Browning, who is clever, distinguished and interesting, a graduate of the College of Engineers of the University of Kentucky, class of 1909, has for the past six or seven years been established in his profession in Cincinnati, where he has kept bachelor hall with Mr. Julian Chinn, a nephew of Mr. W. Alexander Julian, and with Mr. Harold Dwight, the fiancé of Miss Rosalind Vail. He is a son of Mr. F. P. Browning and the late Mrs. Browning, of Maysville, where, after the marriage in June, he will accede to his father's wishes and join him in the large business interests which occupy the family in that charming Kentucky town, the elder Browning being then willing to retire from active participation in the commercial world. He is a delightful type of the old school, erect and energetic, in spite of his snow-white hair and beard, which although indicative of the running sands of Time are nevertheless denied by his frank laugh, his ruddy coloring and his well-spring of youth. As Maysville is so near as to be almost a suburb of Cincinnati Mr. Browning and his bride will often return here, where their friends would regret to lose sight of them entirely.

GARDENING IN ELEMENTARY CITY SCHOOLS

That home gardening, directed by the school, is the most effective way for bringing boys and girls into closer relationship with the affairs of life is asserted by C. D. Jarvis in a bulletin on "Gardening in Elementary City Schools" just issued by the Bureau of Education of the Department of the Interior. Mr. Jarvis declares: "In or about almost any city there may be found an abundance of land that may be used for productive gardening by school children. Within the limits of many cities there is sufficient land, if intensively cultivated, to supply the people with all the vegetables and a large proportion of the fruits and flowers needed. This unused land should be brought under cultivation."

In order that the best use may be made of this land for educational and productive purposes, it is suggested that trained and experienced teachers of gardening should be employed in every city. "Such teachers would instruct the children directly and the parents indirectly," declares Mr. Jarvis, "with the result that in a few years a generation of capable gardeners would be developed. But the development of strong-bodied, efficient, and contented citizens is the real purpose and the main result of this work. With a common knowledge of the principles and possibilities of crop production, the wage-earner of the future will not need to measure his income solely by the size of his pay envelope. He will consider, also, the productive capabilities of his garden plot and the extent to which it will reduce the cost of living. He will see the advantages of a suburban home, contrasted with the crowded and unwholesome tenement."

The Bureau's bulletin points out the possibilities of gardening from the point of view of democracy in education; its usefulness in developing thrift and industry; its value as a substitute for illegal child labor; and its justification in inculcating the joy of living. The bulletin also analyzes the methods of introducing gardening into the schools; describes the different types of gardens; shows the kinds of instruction and supervision that have proved useful; and goes somewhat into detail in planning garden plots and the disposal of the garden crop.

FASHIONS IN CREEDS

Did you ever notice that the State of Kentucky, and other States for all we know to the contrary, is divided up into zones of fashionable worship almost as clearly delimited as the very countries themselves? It is that way to a quite surprising extent and we have never found anyone who could tell us why, for example, the Presbyterians should predominate in one section and the Episcopalians in another; why this town should be able to support six Roman Catholic churches, while its nearest neighbor, of just about the same population, painfully provides a congregation for one. But that is the way it runs—Baptists in one place and Methodists in another, the Christian Church here and the Lutherans there. Strata, as it were, of different forms of the too much subdivided Christian religion.

We used the word "fashionable." Perhaps our choice of words is at fault. Perhaps we ought to have said that, so peculiarly well-defined are these boundaries that new-comers, with an elastic allegiance, have been known to hesitate before joining until they might be able to determine just what particular affiliation might be best for their business or their social standing. If there were no more to it than this convenient opportunism, it would not concern us.

But there is more than that. There are times when it is unhealthy not to go with the swim; when to have independent opinions is to be made uncomfortable; when the same kind of absent treatment is served out to the poor dissenters—dissenters is perhaps the apter word—as belongs to poor relations and other undesirables.

Persecution is possibly too big a word for the kind of thing we have in mind, for this a free country, is it not? where all opinions, or no opinions, are alike welcome. But at times, nonetheless, one is tempted to remark that many evil things are done in the name of toleration.

It is a pity. The day we had thought long since past when it would be possible to apply to any place in America, even metaphorically, the lines from Hudibras, freely adapted, we may add:

With apostolic blows and knocks
They prove that they are orthodox.

—Louisville Herald

UPLIFT: A WISH GRATIFIED

In one of his beautifully worded speeches last summer on moral guidance, on principles before self-advantage, and on the subordination of private interests to the service of humanity, President Wilson said:

"I would rather hear what the men are talking about on the trains and in the shops and by the fireside than hear anything else, because I want guidance, and I know I could get it there, and what I am constantly asking is that men should bring me counsel, because I am not privileged to determine things independently of that counsel. I am your servant not your ruler."

We can gratify Mr. Wilson's wish. We are able to tell him what men are talking about on the trains and in the shops and by the fireside this morning.

They are talking about the scandal of the appointment by which he, their servant, not their ruler, attempts to provide a salary of $8,000 a year for his personal medical attendant and connection by marriage not only at the cost of outrageous injustice to more than one hundred officers the superiors of Dr. Cary T. Grayson in line of promotion.

They are saying that a more shocking manifestation of selfish indifference to public opinion, a more degrading exhibition of personal graft, has seldom if ever been witnessed in the White House.

They are saying on the trains and in the shops and by the fireside that the United States Senate isn't worth a damn if it hasn't the manliness and independence and justice to reject this scandalous nomination.

That is the opinion, on the trains and in the shops and by the firesides, of this particular kind of Uplift.—New York Sun.

NOW, I DON'T THINK MUCH OF THE POLICE YOU HAVE IN THIS TOWN. YOU SEE, I WAS CARRYING HOME A BOWLING BALL THE OTHER NIGHT AND WHEN THE POLICEMEN SAW IT THEY THOUGHT IT WAS A BOMB AND I STARTED TO RUN!

JOHN W. VOGEL'S HAPPY INSPIRATION

There is a good time coming—one of those fascinating periods wherein the appetite for pleasure is whetted to an almost uncontrollable extent.

Sharpened to the last degree of keenness by anticipatory interest in the new manner of show that comes to the Washington Opera House tomorrow night.

Imagine, if you can, a huge ensemble of grand and comic opera celebrities, minstrel folk, noted faceuress and a gayly bedecked Geisha girl chorus assembled in a temple of fun for the purpose of uniting their efforts in one grand entertainment.

That is what you will see and hear in "Japland", or the Garden of Mikado, John W. Vogel's brand new, Oriental minstrel farce comedy; three sorts of satisfying amusements welded into an endless chain of mirth, song and color, the dressing of the principals and Geisha girl chorus and the picturesque settings giving the producer the right to add extravagance to his already lengthy title. "Japland" is in two acts and fourteen scenes, the preface number being a medley composed of popular operatic selections that serves to introduce every member of the large company, also Mr. Vogel's own symphony orchestra of fourteen selected soloists. Then comes the First Part, that pleasurable portion of minstrelsy, with its even dozen "corked" comedians, twenty-five trained male and female voices and the symphonic instrumentalists, all fittingly dressed for the festival of fun. Next in order is the olio, or vaudeville, and finally the opera, the piece de resistance, as it were, of this wondrously united pot-pourri. The necessity of the unusually large orchestra makes it possible for Mr. Vogel to have a band of considerable worth, therefore, the somewhat different parade at noon will serve to create added interest in this wonderful coalition.

WOMAN COULD HARDLY STAND

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Fulton, N. Y. — "Why will women pay out their money for treatment and receive no benefit, when so many have proved that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will make them well? For over a year I suffered from female weakness I could hardly stand and was afraid to go on the street alone. Doctors said medicines would help me, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved it otherwise. I am now perfectly well and can do any kind of work." — Mrs. NELLIE PHELPS, care of R. A. Rider, R.F.D. No. 5, Fulton, N. Y.

STARVATION IN BELGIUM NOW, SAVES RELIEF LEADER

Philadelphia, Pa., February 9—Herbert C. Hoover, chairman of the Commission for Relief in Belgium, told members of the City Club in an address today that there is no starvation in Belgium at present, and that there would not be any "as long as the commission is given the funds to continue its work." He said that the Belgians are now healthy, "but," he added, "it is the vital duty of Americans to give aid that this help may be maintained. Without this aid, Belgium must starve."

Mr. Hoover said the relief commission is short between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 a month in its budget.

"This is due largely to the fact that we have taken on additional loads," he said. "Recently we have been feeding 1,200,000 school children at a cost of more than $1,000,000 a month. We must raise this money by some means other than government subsidies and we appeal to the citizens of the United States to help with the burden."

GERMAN-AMERICANS URGED BY LEADER TO REMAIN LOYAL

Philadelphia, February 9 — Dr. Charles J. Hexamer, president of the National German-American Alliance, tonight made public a letter he has sent to members of that organization urging them to remain loyal to America in the present national crisis and advising them of action taken by the Alliance at a meeting here last Wednesday night. Resolutions were adopted at this meeting endorsing the action of President Wilson in severing diplomatic relations with Germany, and in case of war it was decided to turn the funds collected for German war relief over to the American Red Cross.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years doctors pronounced it to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. New Bonds May Effect Old

The bond issue which the administration contemplates will have its effect upon the value of United States securities in the market. The last bonds authorized by Congress were voted in 1902 in anticipation of the cost of building the Panama Canal. The sum authorized totaled $375,000,000 in issues of two and three per cent bonds. Of the two per cent bonds $84,000,000 were sold and about $50,000,000 of the threes. The threes are now quoted at around 101, so if the remaining $241,000,000 are issued it is evident that they cannot be put out at par, no matter what the law may say, if the market is to be free and natural in its operations. The powers of the Federal Reserve Board may be invoked, however, to hasten the assimilation of the new bonds; but even then the market price of United States bonds is likely to be affected.

High Taxes Due to Waste
Emphasis is laid by Congressman Aaron S. Kreider of Pennsylvania on the fact that the ever-growing deficit in the Treasury is due not only to Democratic tariff legislation, but to the wasteful and reckless use of the money that party has wrung from the people by direct taxation. Mr. Kreider cites the punitive expedition into Mexico with its utter lack of results, and the Vera Cruz incident, which accomplished only some "street cleaning" and a little plumbing work in that city. If the President had been willing to subordinate to the public welfare his own personal animosity toward Huerta, and early maintained an alert guard on the border there would have been no expedition to Vera Cruz and a laborious and expensive march into Mexico between two lines of railroads would not have been undertaken in pursuit of a will-o'-the-wisp like Villa.

Would Avoid Publication

Washington, February 11—It has required courage in the past to vote against certain Democratic appropriations that carried a sentimental appeal to the people, even though they possessed no real merit. A case in point is the Children's Bureau in the Department of Labor, a vote against funds for that Bureau being generally construed by the public as a vote against the welfare of children. As a matter of fact, however, such a vote is against unnecessary duplication of work already being done by other branches of the Executive Department. Hon. Reed Smoot of Utah is one Senator who has the moral courage to vote against additional funds for that Bureau for the reasons given. "That there is a duplication of work there can be no question," declares Senator Smoot, "and I think the Appropriations Committee ought to take it up and see that there is an end to duplication of all activities of the Government." The public should carefully scrutinize the appeal that is constantly being made by the Democrats for the endorsement of the voters of the country because of that party's support of the Children's Bureau, and other activities of a sentimental interest, as it is one of the most insidious forms of political trickery.

Why Baker Resigned—Little Politics Forces Out a Big Man

Bernard N. Baker, of Baltimore, has resigned from the Shipping Board. Who is Bernard N. Baker? Well, here are a few of the things he has done: When the United States found herself without ships with which to transport troops at the outbreak of the Spanish-American War, it was Mr. Baker, as president of the Atlantic Transport Line, which he founded, who offered President McKinley practically his entire fleet of ships. When the Boer War was on, it was Mr. Baker who placed in service the hospital ship, "Maine," on which sick and dying soldiers were transported to their motherland. When, at the close of the war, on account of the great humanitarian service the "Maine" had rendered the British Admiralty asked him if they could not "borrow" the vessel a little while longer, Mr. Baker, at his own expense, made Great Britain a present of the ship, fully equipped.

When the historic "Denmark" sprung a leak in mid-ocean, it was the "Missouri," one of Mr. Baker's ships, that speeded to her assistance and every soul aboard was saved—nearly a thousand persons. The law of sea-salvage imposes a golden fortune for such service. But Mr. Baker would not have a single cent for what his ship did.

For the last two or three years, Mr. Baker has given his time to the establishment of an American merchant marine. It was his efforts, more than any other one thing, that established the Shipping Board, Secretary McAdoo and the President sought his counsel as the greatest known American expert in maritime subjects.

Mr. Baker is sixty-three years old. He has given up active business affairs and could have retired and lived at his ease, but in the Shipping Board, he saw an opportunity to realize his life's ambition to see America take her place on the high seas. He organized the work of the board, made its estimates, outlined its policies, worked cheerfully with the Republicans and Democrats alike for he knew no politics. Then—

Politics made it necessary in the eyes of the Administration that the chairman of the board should be a man from the Pacific Coast. California must be recognized. So Mr. William Denman, a very estimable gentleman of ability, was appointed and Mr. Baker was shunted aside.

It has been over a week since Mr. Baker resigned and to all the newspaper men, public officials and others who have importuned him, not a word has he spoken against the Administration. He has said that he wants to see the Shipping Board succeed. He

OF LOCAL INTEREST

Some People We Know, and We Will Profit by Hearing About Them.

This is a purely local event. It took place in Maysville. Not in some faraway place. You are asked to investigate it. Asked to believe a citizen's word. To confirm a citizen's statement. Any article that is endorsed at home is more worthy of confidence. Than one you know nothing about. Endorsed by unknown people.

George H. King, prop. grocery, 615 E. Second St., Maysville, Ky., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for several years, getting them at Chanslor's Drug Store, and I have been greatly benefited by them. Sometimes, my kidneys have been out of order and the kidney secretions have been irregular in passage. I have suffered severely with aches through the small of my back. Whenever I have been in that way, I have used a box or two of Doan's Kidney Pills. They have never failed to cure the attack in great order."

Mr. King is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mr. King had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. is even willing to help it.

This is the story of how a great man was lightly pushed aside that politics might be played. However, it is only one instance, but perhaps the most striking, of the way the Administration has played politics in some of the most serious affairs that America has had before it.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRL

Run-down, Weak and Nervous—Made Strong by Vinol.

For the benefit of Maysville school girls who overwork and get into highly nervous, weak and run-down condition, we publish this letter from Dorris Copier, of Fort Worth, Tex. "I go to the high school and take music lessons, and became run-down, weak and very nervous, so I could not do anything. I would shake all over and could have screamed at times, and was really unfit to keep on with my studies. Mother purchased a bottle of Vinol for me and within a week I was better, and in two weeks I had gained five pounds and felt fine."

It is the curative, strengthening elements of beef and cod liver peptones, aided by the blood-making, revitalizing effect of iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates, contained in Vinol, which made it so successful in building up health and strength and overcoming the nervous condition of Miss Copier, and we ask every school girl in Maysville who is in a like condition to try Vinol, on our guarantee to return their money if it fails to benefit. Will Prices Advance?

I have received notice from the company of an advance in the price of nearly 100 different parts that enter into the assembly of the Ford car. All other cars have advanced in price. My advice to prospective Ford purchasers is to PLACE THEIR ORDERS AT ONCE. It won't cost you anything and may save you $50.00 to $100.00. At any rate it will insure you getting a car, and if you delay you are sure to be disappointed as I have orders on file for every car the company has promised me till next May. ONLY YOUR IMMEDIATE ORDER WILL ASSURE YOU OF GETTING A FORD. Better take my advice.

Show vs. Blow

This is the style of an action filed in the Tobacco District this week, for the benefit of those who have tobacco to sell.

Ever since the market opened, the papers have been full of the claims of some houses, how much better they can sell than anybody else. Some, because they are BIG, poke fun at the little ones, (maybe we won't always be that way) and all this time we have been trying to mind our own business and satisfy both buyers and sellers.

But this week, we just can't help from bubbling over with enthusiasm, for on Thursday's sale of 123,515 pounds, we broke the record with an average of $20.10, any number of baskets bringing from $30.00 to $40.00, and 20 crops averaging $20.00 and above, as follows:

Mason County: J. D. Mackey & Bro., $26.33; H. P. Walker, $23.74; Chamberlain & Cefner, $22.94; Farrow & Pollitt, $21.77; Wood & Larkin, $21.08; Adrian F. Sult, $20.24; O. C. Mattingly, $22.25; R. L. Starrett, $20.78; John Uwine, $20.19; John Lunford, $20.89; Brammel & Folmer, $21.24; J. L. Truesdell, $21.83; Lee R. Weaver, $21.06; Tuel Bros., $20.76; Ravenscraft & Allison, $20.02; Glip & Coughlin, $20.11; T. H. Stevens, $22.65; J. H. Ring, $20.55; A. C. Ring, $20.57.

Fleming County: Frank Myers, $20.70; Clarkston & Gaebke, $20.05; Farrow & Earleywine, $20.00; F. R. Clarke, $20.83; W. S. Myers, $22.93.

Brown County: Stanley Hamilton, $21.20.

Lewis County: T. J. Hartley, $21.22.

We now submit the case to the jury of farmers, for decision, and if you think we have won by SHOWING while some others have been BLOWING, bring us a load and go home happy.

SOME CAST

For the Elks Big Musical Comedy, "A Day at Coney Island"—Over One Hundred Maysvillians to Take Part.

The Elks Musical Comedy, which will be shown in the Washington Opera House on Thursday and Friday promises to be one of the most interesting home talent productions ever put on the stage. A large number of Maysville people are in the production, over 100 taking part.

Mr. and Mrs. Jean Jordan of New York City are directing the production. They have had much experience in conducting home talent productions and this show will doubtless be one of their many successes.

Some of the people taking leading parts are: Misses Bona Fitzgerald, Martha Green Sharp, Margaret Smith, Lucy Smith, Elizabeth Boughton, Elizabeth Peed, Dr. J. A. Dodson, Leon P. Squires, John Dudley Keith, Jack Farrow, Eugene McCarthy, Arthur Heimer, Joe Calvert, Robert Wilcock and Clyde Holcombe.

The beauty chorus consists of the following: Misses Ria Ross, Carrol Matthews, Susan Thompson, Alice Berry, Frances Dixon Ball, Bessie L. Bell, Marion Power, Mary Kehoe, Fanny Thomas, Frances Thomas and Luella Greenlee.

The tickets for the musical comedy are finding a ready sale among the people of Maysville and there will doubtless be capacity houses at both shows.

AT THE WASHINGTON TONIGHT

Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne, the crowned king and queen of the silent drama, will be seen here at Washington Opera House today in "The Wall Between," a sensational five-act Metro wonder play. This production is by far the most pretentious feature in which these stars have appeared in their long career on the screen. It is a military masterpiece and affords an excellent opportunity for the staging of scores of thrilling scenes. "The Wall Between" was produced under the personal direction of John W. Noble, of the Metro staff, who is a graduate of West Point and saw seven years active service as an officer in the United States Army. A typical Metro cast will be seen in this feature and more than two thousand persons appear in the production. "The Wall Between" was produced by the Quality Pictures Corporation for the Metro program.

The choir of the Church of Nativity is preparing a cantata for use at the Easter service.

The Aid Society of the Christian Church will meet on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. A. F. Stahl on East Fourth street.

Plans are beginning to assume shape for the celebration of the centennial by the First Presbyterian Church sometime during June. This centennial will be observed appropriately.

Fourteen ahead of Maysville to start with. Looks like Maysville has a job on hands to beat Paris. Watch the boosters boost. The Maysville Barons are out to win this contest. Watch the men line up.

Rev. W. H. Davenport of Ashland, District Superintendent, of the Ashland District, was present at the Third Street M. E. Church last evening and delivered a sermon. The Sacrament was administered.

The revival at the Forest Avenue M. E. Church closed last evening after a very successful series of meetings. The Rev. W. H. Morris of Ashland, was the speaker and he nightly gave splendid sermons.

Rev. A. F. Stahl continued his series of sermons on the Christian last evening with the subject, "The Christian and His Money." These sermons are very interesting and are attracting a great deal of attention.

The matter of a new pastor for the Central Presbyterian Church has been discussed a number of times by the members of that church but no choice has been made. One minister has notified the church that he will not accept a call.

One of the best days in the history of Forest Avenue M. E. Church was had yesterday. The morning service was largely attended, and one of the best services of the meeting was witnessed, and at the evening service the house was filled to its utmost capacity. Brother Morris was equal to the occasion and gave two powerful sermons. As a result of the day's progress several were saved and a number joined the church. This was a blessed day and will be remembered by all that attended, especially those that were saved. The meeting will continue from night to night as the time for the close is undecided. Watch the paper for the announcement and come to every service.

BANQUET

At the Whitehall Hotel on Saturday Night Was Some Affair—About 100 Men Present.

The tobacco men's banquet at the Whitehall Hotel on Saturday night was one of the leading affairs of its kind ever held in Maysville. Every one present greatly enjoyed the evening.

The buyers and warehousemen were the guests of the speculators at the banquet and the latter certainly knew how to entertain. Every thing was done up in the best of style. A delicious banquet was served by Mr. Claude Watkins, proprietor of the Whitehall Hotel.

Mr. John Janvier, former editor of the Ledger and now connected with the Home Warehouse, was called upon to be the toastmaster of the evening. He was introduced by Hon. Harry P. Purnell of the Liberty House. Mr. Janvier made an excellent toastmaster, although he had not been previously notified that he was to fill this responsible position.

The speakers of the evening were: Mr. A. M. January of the Farmers and Planters; M. M. Gary of the American Tobacco Co.; C. M. Jones of the Liberty; Thomas H. Gray of the Gray Co.; Z. T. Broughton of the Peoples; A. J. Boyd; S. M. Blatterman; A. L. Powers of the Farmers and Planters. About 100 of the gentlemen connected with the tobacco market besides a few outsiders were present at the banquet.

THE MASTER PASSION

Tells fascinating story of a beautiful woman's rise and fall. Goaded by ambition, she leaves her husband and little child to become the idol of the Paris Opera. With the world at her feet, she tastes life's bitter dregs. Disillusionment brings regeneration and the triumph of mother-love. Finally, through sacrifice to save her daughter from a scoundrel the woman's debt is paid and Destiny leads her once more to the family hearthstone, there to find eternal peace of soul.

Mabel Trunelle and Robert Conness are featured in this great Edison photoplay to be shown at the Pastime this afternoon and night.

The Sewing Society of the Central Presbyterian Church will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Mrs. Lucy Lee of South Market street.
